

Equipping federal employees with the skills and necessary resources required for the changing seas

Attendee Fact Sheet

GovEnergy 2009

Charting a Course to Energy Independence

The Premier Energy Training Workshop and Tradeshow for Federal Agencies

August 9-12, 2009

Rhode Island Convention Center
Providence, Rhode Island

Stay on course with the new administration's energy goals! GovEnergy serves to support federal agency efforts in meeting federal energy mandates such as the Energy Policy Act of 2005, Executive Order 13423, and EISA 2007. GovEnergy also seeks to encourage the proper implementation of federal guidance.

GovEnergy offers the tools, techniques, and best practices for developing key strategies in which to better support federal agencies. Leading energy experts across the nation consistently rate GovEnergy as the premier workshop and tradeshow for industry professionals.

GovEnergy 2009 Agency Sponsors

GovEnergy Features an Ocean of Information:

- Attend compliance-focused training sessions - GovEnergy presents the latest statutory requirements and Executive polices for federal facilities and operations.
- Discover technical and financial resources - Gain access to experts, financial tools, and resources designed to leverage energy management skills.
- Ask the experts - Meet nationally recognized, forward-thinking energy experts offering professional insight and proven best practices.
- Explore energy-saving technologies - The energy industry is rapidly evolving. Stay up-to-date on industry innovations and discover new energy technologies and management tools at GovEnergy's training sessions, tradeshow and optional technical tours.
- A chance to fine-tune your skills - Receive professional development and education credits through GovEnergy training sessions.

Shore Up with the 2009 Technical Track:

Featuring over 100 educational sessions, GovEnergy offers high quality training opportunities from renewable energy, to project financing and security. This training has been designed to help you support both day-to-day and strategic energy management goals. The sessions are divided among 13 tracks:

- Building Operations & Maintenance
- Contracting
- Energy 101
- Energy Lawyers & Contracting Officers Working Group
- Energy Security
- Legislation, Policy & Leadership
- Metering & Energy Management Control Systems
- Project Financing
- Renewables
- Specialty Buildings
- Sustainability
- Technology
- Water

Don't Miss the Boat! GovEnergy is of Special Interest to:

- Contracting Officers and Lawyers
- Energy Management Service Providers
- Equipment Manufacturers
- Federal Energy Coordinators
- Federal Energy Managers
- Federal Facility Managers
- Federal Procurement Officials
- Private Sector Facility and Energy Professionals
- State and Local Government Officials
- Utility and Energy Service Companies

Navigational Information

Located in the heart of downtown Providence, the Rhode Island Convention Center is just fifteen minutes away from the airport and is easily accessible by both highway and train.

Captain's Special

Take advantage of the special Early Bird Discount Rate and register by June 10, 2009.

Visit www.govenergy.gov for up-to-date information and complete registration details