Why Energy Management is Important and
How to Get Started

Mike Aimone, P.E.

Why Energy Management is Important and How to Get Started

- Know how energy use is impacting your agency's mission and budget
- Build a plan/solicit leadership mandate
- Create a baseline, and metrics; measure progress
- Identify energy zealots at all levels in the agency
- Keep the message “fresh”; use all PA channels
- Conduct energy audits/fix low hanging opportunities on the spot/program repair projects
